

#1

#2

#3 A frequency of 0.38272 cycles/day corresponds to a periodic trend with a cycle length of: $1/0.38272=2.61$ days

This suggests a potential pattern in stock price movement approximately every 2-3 days.

The magnitude of the peak is quite low, meaning this is a relatively weak periodic trend.

#4

